ALMANACK

for the year of our LORD GOD

1662.

Being the second after Leap-year,
and from the Worlds Creation
according to the best account 5666.

Amplified, with many good things, both for pleasure and profit: And fitted for the meridian of Saffron-Walden in Essex, where the pole is elevated 52 degrees and six minutes above the Horizon.

Whereunto are added the several Fairs held in England each moneth this year.

CAMBRIDGE:
Printed by John Field, Printer to the Universitie. 1662.

Of the Calends, Nones, and Ides, being the last Column of this Almanack, in the Blank page thereof. •

THe Calends are the first day of every moneth, so called Calendæ, quasi Colendæ, Days of worship, because the old Romanes used to sanctifie the first day of every moneth, in the honour of Juno; Now the last day of every moneth is called Pridie Calendarum, or Calendæ, the day before the Calends of the next moneth; as the last of February is Pridie Calendarum Martii, the day before the Calends of March. Although the Calends be the first day of the moneth, yet they begin the next day after the Ides the moneth before, as the 14 of February begins the 15 Calends of March, and so on as the figures in the Column shew thee.

The Nones be certain days in every moneth: In March, May, July and October, they last from the 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 days; the 6 whereof is Pridie Nonarum, and the seventh Nonæ, but in all the other moneths the Nones contain but the 2, 3, 4, and 5 days; the fourth whereof is Pridie Nonarum; the 5 and last Nonæ, as before. They are called Nonæ from the word Non, not, (as some think) because during this time the Romanes sanctified no day to their Gods.

The Ides follow next after the Nones, and in these moneths March, May, July and October, they are on the 15 day, but in all other moneths they are always on the 13 day.

This moneth begins very well: but on the 5, 6, 7. very windy: and on the ninth and tenth rain and wind. The dayes following next cool and like to be rhunder and hail. the fifteenth fair, but windy. then follow clouds and some rain. About Midsummer more temperate, but with wind on the twenty fifth, and missing weather, if not worfe, soon after.

The worst weather that this moneth affords, is not like to appear till about the fifteenth or sixteenth day: Onely on the seventh day I expect wind and wet. And after the one and twentieth many windy dayes together, which if they blow nor up some stormes it is a wonder.

Of the four quarters of the year.

The Vernal quarter derives his name à virendo, from flourishing; quia tunc omnia virent & florent, because all things then flourish: this being the first quarter in the year, as appeareth by the old distich.

*Omnia cum vireant, tunc est nova temporis ætas:
Sic annus per Ver incipendus erit.*

This quarter beginneth March the 10, the Sun then entring into the first degree of Aries, producing the first Equinox; and continueth till June the 11: in which time the Sun runneth through Aries, Taurus, & Gemini. It is a Quarter naturally (though accidentally it sometime prove otherwise) hot and moist, resembled to the Meridian-region of the world, the South-wind, the Air, the Sanguine complexion, and to infancy. The ordinary diseases (according to common course) of this quarter be Leprosies, Red-spots, Feavers of blood, small pox, with other infirmities proceeding of blood.

The Astival quarter is next. It beginneth June the 11, the Sun then entring into the first degree of Cancer: and continueth till September the 13: during which time the Sun runneth through these three celestial constellations, viz. Cancer, Leo, and Virgo. It deriveth the name ab astu, from the exceeding heat which useth to be now, as also the English word Summer doth: for it is called summer, quasi sunne meht, as the German speak; that is, plus solis, because we have more of the sun then, then at any other time.

This quarter is naturally hot and dry, resembled to the Oriental region of the world, to the East, to the Choler, to Youth. The Acknesles agreeing hereunto be
Sto=

Stomach-aking, Apoplexies, pestilent Feavers, Jaundise, with other infirmities proceeding of choler. According to the Arabians this is the first quarter of the year, who hold that the Sun was made in Leo. And their reason is, because the Lion is the house of the Sun. Mercator in his Chronologie is of the same minde, but backs his opinion very weakly.

The Autumnal quarter beginneth September the 13, the Sun entring into the first degree of Libra, producing the second Equinox; and continueth till the 11 of December: in which time the Sun runneth through Libra, Scorpio, and Sagittarius.

This quarter the Jews own for the first quarter of the year: and their reason is, quia tempus est fructuosum, because it is a time of fruit; according to that in the Scripture, Et protulit terra herbam virentem facientem fructum juxta genus suum, And the earth brought forth the green herb yielding fruit according to its kind. It is a quarter naturally cold and dry, resembled to the Septentrional-region of the world, to the North wind, to the Earth, to Melancholy, and to the declining age of man. The diseases properly incident to it be pains in the back, darkness of sight, retention of urine, also the canker, fistoles, emroids, with other infirmities proceeding of melancholy.

The Hymial or Winter quarter (being naturally cold and moist, resembled to the Occidental-region of the world, to the West, to water, to flegm, and to old age) beginneth December the 11, the Sun then entring into the first degree of Capricorn; and continueth till March the 10: in which time the Sun runneth through these three celestial signs, viz Capricorn, Aquarius, and Pisces.

This quarter, though of us accounted the last, yet by Numa Pompilius it was accounted the first, and that for this reason; quia tunc Sol ad nos ascendere incipit; because the Sun then begins to ascend the Ecliptick: whence the Poet, Ovid by name,

Bruma novi prima est veterisque novissima solis:

Principium capiunt Phœbus & Annus idem.

The diseases incident to this quarter be commonly pusses in the face, tooth-ach, scabs, fluxes of blood by the inferiour parts, palfies, gout, with other diseases proceeding of Slegme.

A medicine for the Gout.

The roots of Comfrey taken fresh, beaten small, and spread upon leather, and laid upon any place troubled with the Gout, doth presently give ease of the pains, as by often experience hath been found. It is good also for pains in the joynts, Gangrens, and is very profitable for running and moist ulcers.

A medicine for a Boyl.

The herb Balm is an herb of Jupiter, and under Cancer. This herb, if it be bruised and boyled in a little wine and oyl, and laid warm on a Boyl, it will ripen and break it.

A medicine to cure Numbness, &c.

Take an oyl made of the Berries of the Bay-tree, and therewith anoint the place, for it is very comfortable in all cold griefs of the joynts, Nerves, Arteries, Stomach, Belly or Womb, and helpeth Palfies, Cramps, Convulsions, Aches, Trembling, and Numbness in any part, weariness also and pains that come by sore travelling.

Pond. 1662.

A medicine for womens breasts.

Bean flower made into a Pultiss is good to assuage Inflammations rising upon wounds, and to help the swellings of womens breasts caused by the curdling of their Milk, repressing their Milk, &c.

Against Chilblains or Kibes.

Take the common white Beet, & boyl the leaves thereof in water: then take and lay them upon Kibes or Chilblains, and it will help them.

Against the Tooth-ach.

The decoction of Wood Betony made in Wine, and gargled in the mouth, easeth the Tooth-ach. This herb is appropriated to the Planet Jupiter, and the sign Aries. A decoction of Hysop in vinegar will do the like: it must be sodden to halfe.

Good against the Itch.

The leaves of the Bramble or Black-berry-bush boyled in Lie, and the Head washed therewith, healeth the Itch and the running sores thereof, but will dye the Hair into a black, or at the least make it blacker then it was before.

Good against Deafness.

The juice of either the Winter or Summer-savory heated with a little of Roses, and dropped into the ears, easeth them of the Noise and Singing in them, and of Deafness also.

Pond 1662.

Good against Worms:

The seed of Purslane bruised and boyled in wine, and given to children, expelleth the Worms.

Good for the Liver and Spleen.

The decoction either of the Leaves or Bark of the Maple-tree, is very good to strengthen the Liver: and is also good to open obstructions both of the Liver and Spleen, and easeth pains of the sides proceeding from thence.

For a sore Mouth or Throat.

The flowers of Mallows boyled in oyl or water, whereunto a little Honey and Allum is put, is an excellent Gargle to wash, cleanse, and heal any sore Mouth, or Throat, in a short space.

For a broken-winded Horse.

The herb Lungwort boyled in Beer is an excellent remedy for broken-winded Horses: which you may give them as you give any other Drink.

For a Pin and web in the Eye.

The fine powder of Liquoris blown through a Quil into the eyes that have a Pin and Web (as they call it) or Rewmatick Distillations into them, doth cleanse and help them.

For the Ague.

The Decoction of the leaves and seeds of Saint Johns-wort being drunk somewhat warm before the fits of Agues, whether they be Tertians or Quartans, doth alter the fits, and by often using doth take them quite away.

The vertues of Clove-Gilli-flowers as they be set down by Mr Culpeper in his English Physician.

They are gallant fine temperate flowers, of the nature and under the dominion of Jupiter; yea, so temperate, that no excess, neither in heat, cold, driness, nor moisture can be perceived in them. They are great strengtheners both of the Brain & Heart, and will therefore serve either for Cordials or Cephalicks as your occasion is. There is both a Syrup and a Conserve made of them: to take now & then a little of either, strengthens nature much, to such as are in Consumptions. They are also good in hot Pestilential Fevers, and expell poyson.

Sed contra vim mortis non est medicamen in hortis.

Statutum enim est omnibus semel mori, Heb. 9. 27.

Other Physical Observations.

Let blood at no time without great cause; for it bringeth weakness and many infirmities. If ye do, see it be after good digestion and fasting, in a fair temperate day, if it may be. Beware before of all manner of exercises, as bathing, watching, carnal copulation, &c. After, use fine meats of light digestion, abstaining from all aforesaid until the 4 day.

These

Pond 1662.

These Signes are ill for bloud-letting, the Moon being in them, viz. Taurus, Gemini, Leo, Virgo, and Capricorn, with the last half of Libra and Scorpio: the rest are all good, if the Moon bear no dominion in that member which ye cut.

Furthermore, in letting of bloud you must know what persons are fit to bleed, and what not: and if they be fit, how it is with the patient inwardly, for his complexion and age; outwardly, for the time of the year, time of the moneth, day, and diet.

For Complexion.

For the Flegmatick, let the Moon be in Aries or Sagittarius: for the Melancholy, in Libra or Aquarius: for the Cholerick, in Cancer or Pisces: and for the Sanguine, in any of the aforesaid, Luna signum membro dominans peragrante.

For age let bloud.

In youth, from the change to the first quarter.

In middle age, from the first quarter to the full.

In elder age, from the full to the last quarter.

In old age, from the last quarter to the change.

For the time of the year.

The Spring is best, Autumn indifferent, the rest of the year bad, and to be used but upon necessitie.

In Spring and Summer let the right arm bloud,

The Fall and Winter for the left more good.

Pond 1662.

For the time of the moneth.

Let not blood three days before nor three days after the change: nor the day before, nor the day after the conjunction of Luna and Saturn, or of Luna and Mars; nor when Venus and Luna be in conjunction, if Venus at the same time be combust. The best and fittest time is, when the Moon is aspected with Jupiter or Venus incombust; or in Sextile or Trine with Sol or Mars.

The time of the day.

The morning after Sun-rising fasting is the best; or in the after noon towards evening after perfect digestion, if the air be temperate, and the wind not south.

Diet after bleeding.

*Sleep not presently, Stir not violently,
Feed but warily. Use no Venerie
Soon after Phlebotomie.*

But notwithstanding these rules let it be further observed, that for the Pestilence, the Phrensie, the Pleurisie, the Squinacy, the Apoplexy, a continual Headach growing of choler or blood, a hot burning fever, or any other extreme pain, we are not to tarry for a chosen time, but must presently with all convenient speed seek a remedie: but then blood is not to be let out in so great a quantity as if a chosen time were had.

And

And as for purging, take these rules.

The ☾ in ♈ in * or △ with	♀ Purge choler ♀ not combust ☉ Purge phlegme ♃ Purge melancholy	} with Electu- aries.

The ☾ in ♈ or ♈ in * or △ with	♀ Purge choler ♀ not combust ☉ Purge phlegme ♃ Purge melancholy	} with any kinde of medicine

But see that the Moon be not in any of the signes that chew the cud; as Aries, Taurus, Capricorn: for then the medicine will stay but little with the Patient, causing him to vomit; unless you intend to purge by vomiting, for then indeed these signes are good. Also, in purging melancholy, let not Saturn have the dominion; nor Jupiter, when you purge the sanguine; nor Mars, when you purge the chole-rick.

How the moveable feasts are found readily.

SEEK the change of the moon in February for that year ye desire the moveable feasts. Then note what day it falleth on, the next Tuesday is Shrovetuesday; but if the change be on Tuesday the next Tuesday ensuing is it. The next Sunday is the first Sunday in Lent. Six Sundays after is Easter-day. Add 35 days or 5 weeks to Easter-day, and ye have Rogation-sunday. To that add 4 days, so ye have Ascension day: then have ye 10 days to Whitsunday. And 7 days after is Trinity-sunday.

Of the week.

A Week hath divers names. In Latine it is called Septimana, à septem & mane, as it were having septem matutina tempora, seven mornings. It is also called Hebdomas, ab hepta which is septem, as containing seven days. It is also called Sabbatum by the Jews, as appeareth by that sentence in Scripture: Jejuno bis sabbato, &c. where the word Sabbatum is equivocum ad totam septimanam. You may observe the Jews sabbath day was Saturday: but the Christians observe Sunday. which they call dies Dominica, The Lords day, because on that day Christ Jesus, our Lord and Saviour, arose from the dead.

How to finde the age of the Moon.

ADD to the Epact the number of moneths from the beginning of March, together with the moneth wherein you seek, and also the number of days past of that moneth wherein you seek, and such addition will shew you the age of the moon, if the sum of addition be less then 30; but if it exceed 30, then subtract 30, and the remainder shall be the age of the moon, if so be the moneth wherein you seek hath 31 days: but if it hath less then 31, subtract but 29, and the remainder shall be the age.

A rule to finde the Moons distance from the Sun, by which is gathered at all times the Signe and degree where the Moon is.

Multiply the age of the Moon by 4, divide by 10, the quotient sheweth the signes that the Moon differeth from the Sun; the remainder augmented by 3, bringeth degrees to be added: Ye must put these signes and degrees to the place of the Sun. The product, I mean the encrease or end of all these signes and degrees, in order counted from the Sun, declares the place of the Moon in the Zodiack.
